Hendricks Files For Presidency

John Hendricks, ASB vice-president, announced his candidacy for student body president this morning.

The announcement brings the number of presidential aspirants to two. Gene Lokey, junior representative on Student Council, announced his candidacy late last month.

The senior social science major from Los Gatos said that it is of primary concern to continue responsible student government.

"I feel candidates should not promise things that they know are impossible to deliver," he said. "Council actions," Hendricks stated, "should represent all areas of campus."

The presidential candidate announced that he presently is working with the SJS Housing Office on a proposed one-semester contract for approved housing.

"We must work to improve the aesthetic atmosphere of the SJS campus which has been lacking in the past."

"Frankly, council should work on seeing that plans for the Tower Hall landscaping and the Seventh Street plaza are definite improvements over the past state designs," he said.

Hendricks cited the recently introduced council "Academy" bill as one way to improve academic excellence on campus.

"During my tenure in office as chairman of council, I have worked very closely with Bob Pisano, ASB president, and would like to continue his policies."

"For only through a continuity of emphasis and ideas can the goals of student government be accomplished," the vice president emphasized.

"I will continue to oppose the establishment of a tuition fee in the state college system," Hendricks said.

In addition to his vice presidential duties, Hendricks has been vice chairman of council, senior representative, past president of Inter-Dorm Council and a Spartacamp counselor.

Hendricks belongs to Blue Key, Men's honor society, and has been named in "Who's Who in American Colleges" for the past two years.

VISTA Reps To Recruit Volunteers

Representatives of Volunteers In Service To America (VISTA) will be on campus tomorrow and Wednesday to recruit volunteers.

Groups wishing to hear them speak about the domestic Peace Corps program should contact Activities Adviser Dick Romm at ext. 2404 no later than today to make arrangements.

The group, Miss Patricia Hunter, Miss Nancy Stang and John Evans, will talk to organizations and classes.

Arrangements have been made for them to speak to the Associated Women Students, Inter-Fraternity Council, Student Council and Inter-Dormitory Council.

They will be available throughout the day at booths in front of the Bookstore and on Seventh Street.

John Adams, director of recruiting for VISTA, recently stated, "since VISTA is a total-service program seeking one-year commitments from all kinds of Americans, 18 years to 80, our representatives will have a chance to tell the general public its story."

The story, in part, is that VISTA is an anti-poverty program administered by the President's Office of Economic Opportunity. More details will be available from the three representatives.

VISTA volunteers train for four to six weeks and spend the rest of the year living and working in low-income communities in an effort to provide economic opportunity.

Group Takes No Action On Tuition

The finance committee of the Coordinating Council on Higher Education voted to send a staff report on tuition fees to the full council with no recommendation at their meeting Friday in Los Angeles.

The "no recommendation" motion was made by Glenn S. Dumke, chancellor of the California State Colleges and seconded by Edward Carter, president of the University of California's Board of Regents.

The coordinating council attempts to maintain unity within California higher education.

Action on tuition fees will be held up until the council receives position statements from the trustees and the regents.

The trustees are not expected to make any decision regarding the tuition fee proposal until after a second public hearing at the April 29-30 meeting at Fresno State College.

The first public hearing was held last Thursday at the Junipero Serra Building in Los Angeles.

Council Tradition

ASB Votes Funds For Clark Portrait

Professor of art Maynard D. Stewart was commissioned by the Student Council, Friday, to paint an oil portrait of Dr. Robert D. Clark, SJS' 18th president.

It has been council tradition to present the college with a portrait each time there is a change in the administrative post.

Dr. Clark's portrait is scheduled for completion by April 19. It will be presented to the college at President Clark's inauguration on May 4.

The artist receives $300 on approval of final sketches and another $300 when the portrait is completed.

Stewart came to SJS in 1955 after attaining his B.S. degree in 1948 and M.F.A. in 1949 from the University of Utah.

He attended the Art Students' League of New York from 1950-51 and the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts in 1953.

According to Stewart, the portrait will show Dr. Clark in a standing pose with the president attired in academic regalia.

The last two portraits presented to the college, those of Dr. John T. Wahlquist and the late Dr. Thomas W. MacQuarrie were painted by J. Theodore Johnson, a member of the SJS art faculty until his death in 1963.

Both portraits hung in the Reserve Book Room of the library when it was located in the Tower Hall complex.

At present the portraits are in storage. Eventually, they will be placed in the new College Union when it is completed in early 1967.

Meeting just prior to semester break, council voted to continue the practice of presenting a portrait of the college president to SJS.

As soon as the portrait is completed a frame will be purchased at approximately $100 bringing the total cost of the project to $700.

'Respect Human Dignity'

Student Fast Ends—48 Starving Hours

By VICKI REED

The sweet smell of success arrived yesterday at 4 p.m., followed as rapidly as possible by the sweet taste of solid food for the small band of hunger-strike participants fasting in front of the SJS Engineering Building.

Purpose of the 48-hour fast was to protest U.S. air strikes in Viet Nam.

Headaches, nausea and stomach cramps were universal complaints of the students, as the two-day-long vigil came to a close.

Eleven SJS students huddled under the Engineering Building Patio roof as the second hand neared 4 p.m., Friday, and the 48-hour fast began.

Early, weekend rain, already threatened to insure a cold, damp vigil for the small band. The only comforts, agreed to by the heavily-bundled-up students, were drinking water and a few sleeping bags.

Student Peace Union president, 24-year-old Dale Spady, marked the beginning of the fast by reading a resolution, stating the purpose of the protest. It alleged the U.S. is participating in an undeclared war in Viet Nam, without the American public's consent, and that this war is an illegal act of aggression by the U.S.

He cited the Nuremberg trials that followed WWII as a guideline, to the personal-protest design, of this hunger strike. The trials gave the people of the world the obligation of protesting government action; they feel are immoral, Spady said.

Dr. Snell Putney, associate professor of sociology, was on hand during the first few moments of the vigil. He offered encouragement and his support, saying, "I'm in entire agreement with you."

By Sunday morning, the group was drawing pictures of food and complaining about being unable to do homework because of an obsession for food. This was compounded by some Alpha Phi Omega members who insisted on eating a meal in front of the protest group.

As the hunger strike began, there was no evident pattern to age, interests or sex. English, math, history and various social science majors were scattered among the group that included students ranging in age from 17 to 24.

He is listed in "Who's Who in America," "Who's Who in American Education," "Who's Who in the South and Southwest" and "American Men of Science."

Professor Bowman is a graduate of Western Reserve University and earned his graduate degrees at Yale University. He taught at Stephens College from 1931 until he joined the faculty at the University of Texas in 1955.

Dr. Bowman is an internationally recognized authority on marriage and family life.

He served as president of the National Council on Family Relations in 1958-1959 and is a member of the American Assoc. of Marriage Counselors and the American Sociological Society.

His popular book, "Marriage for Moderns," has been translated into several foreign languages.

Featured will be "In the Beginning" by Aaron Copeland, contemporary American composer.

William Erlendson, professor of music, will direct the group.

1,500 Participate in Rally At Berkeley Over Obscenity

Approximately 1,500 persons staged a noon hour rally Friday at the University of California Student Union to protest the arrests of five persons jailed Thursday on obscenity charges.

The five paraded on the Berkeley campus quoting from D. H. Lawrence's "Lady Chatterley's Lover" and waving posters printed with a single four-letter word.

Chief speaker at the rally was Dr. Mark Schorer, author of a best-selling biography of Sinclair Lewis and head of the UC English Department, who earlier called the latest upsurge "a disservice to what is serious and what is to be applauded in the Free Speech Movement."

"Using the word in context is not wrong or dirty; in fact it made the book better. However, obscene terms used for their own sake are not allowable," said Dr. Schorer referring to protection of the 1st and 13th Amendments.

Arthur Goldberg, FSM proponent and obscenity rally emcee, lashed out at hecklers who considered the topic humorous. He criticized the "ridiculous double standard under which you may say in private what you don't dare say in public."

General student reaction favored Dr. Schorer's opinion in the latest campus revolt, according to Miss Candy Hughes, news editor of the Daily Californian. The obscenity movement is expected to be short-lived; however, a bail fund-raising drive continues for the four still behind bars.

As more and more schools check into cheating, a new invention by a Seattle man could skyrocket cheating with a very small possibility of getting caught.

The invention, called a PockeTutor, is a small, battery-operated machine about the size of a cigarette package that allows a previously filled out tape to be viewed as it revolves beneath a transparent window in the top.

The device, when on the market, will sell for $19.95. It can also be ordered with a remote control switch on the back of an accessory wristwatch. Added cost would be $9.95. By using the wristwatch switch the student can activate the machine by bending his wrist.

The inventor stated that the PockeTutor was not made for cheating but to make studying easier. Meanwhile, the company is under investigation by Washington State officials, the Better Business Bureau and the Post Office.

"Pennies for Profs," started by San Francisco State students, is a move to "Help Balance Dumke's Budget." The ad hoc group is advocating "Student Aid for Needy Professors," and is attempting to get a petition signed asking the State Legislature to restore a recently approved 1.8 per cent pay cut for professors.

Adjacent to and associated with the California State College at Los Angeles is a School for Cerebral Palsied Children. There are also seven such schools in the United States and the one at CSCLA serves as a "demonstration teaching and training center."

Those Bearded Ones Come to Enlighten?

Editor:

They sit just inside the Seventh Street side of the cafeteria—these are the bearded ones, the sandaled ones, the new saviors come to enlighten us.

They wear their hair long and their clothes loose. They stare at each passer-by to their limited vision with pitiful hope another might join their cause. These are the saviors come to enlighten us.

They wear arm-bands and carry placards, they sit-in and march-in, they talk with the whole worldly experience of their own closed hand. These are the saviors to enlighten us.

They call America every dirty name they know as they scream their unthinking demands where-ever some might stop and tolerantly listen. These are the saviors come to enlighten us.

They call their own light the truth and all else as false evil they have left far behind them. These are the saviors come to enlighten us.

They speak of aggression by our government without knowing how brief would be their empty wind in the sails of life were they under the government they advocate and give their support to. These are the saviors come to enlighten us.

They speak of the people's voice unheard, yet set their voices as the only truth to lead our land, our people and our future. These are the saviors come to enlighten us.

They are the bearded ones, the sandaled ones, the long-haired ones. They are the saviors come to enlighten us.

Aren't we lucky?

Student Desires Concrete Proposals

Editor:

In regard to the eloquent statement made by the newly appointed senior representative to Student Council, Rich Corby, it would seem to me that what is needed is not a simple observation of what everybody knows, but rather some concrete proposals.

Due to a lack of leadership, student government has yet to jump on the bandwagon to make SJS an institution truly worthy of its title as an "institution of higher learning." Are we, the students, going to sit this one out while the administration and the faculty pass us by?

Statements by an aspiring candidate for vice president shouldn't merely reveal the obvious; rather they should provide concrete steps that will put student government in the driver's seat of the bandwagon.

Mediocrity is interest in who the new football coach happens to be.

Romania, Hungary Lead Pack Away From Moscow Influence

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the final part in a UPI series on Eastern European satellite countries. K.C. Thaler is the United Press International chief diplomatic correspondent in Europe. Franz Cyrus is UPI manager for Austria and Eastern Europe.

By K. C. THALER
and FRANZ CYRUS

Although Romania and Hungary appear to have set the pace in gaining the most independence from Moscow, observers in the Vienna East European listening post are inclined to believe that Czechoslovakia, long entirely subservient to the Soviet Union, will produce the most interesting political developments in the next few months.

Once the most highly industrialized country in East Europe, Czechoslovakia has deteriorated to such a degree that the last for the country's troubles. But two winters it has had to ration electricity.

THEY BLAME WEST

The Czech Communist rulers, headed by President Antonin Novotny, have blamed the West they and the Czech population have long recognized that their economic troubles really stem from Czechoslovakia's enormous commitments of supplies to Russia, to Cuba and to the African under developed nations.

Poland's current situation reflects the conflicting currents in the satellites. There has been a tightening of internal control that has shown itself in one way by a new campaign against the Roman Catholic Church in what is a predominantly Catholic country.

Nevertheless most of the liberalizing reforms as a result of the 1956 rebellion, which brought Wladyslaw Gomulka to power, are still in effect. And although Gomulka seems to be drawing a closer rein of government over the people, he can not be dictated to by the Kremlin.

Least progress in shaking off Kremlin dictatorship has been made by Bulgaria. Poor in itself, still backward and economically under developed, Bulgaria is not in position to agitate for any radical changes.

Also, the country's political leaders are insecure and there are many contesting party factions with none of them strong enough to act upon any bold policy.

DESPERATE FOR MONEY

One desperate Bulgarian need is for money. It is trying to improve the flow of Western currencies into the country with a drive to encourage more Western tourists.

In the present world situation, East Europe continues to feel the need of strong ties and co-operation with the Soviet Union and this is not likely to undergo much change in the foreseeable future.

But the "monolith" empire of slave states Stalin created no longer exists. The breath of independence, the wish for more of the good things of life, blows strong.

Hoopsters Top St. Mary's Gaels; Tie Santa Clara for Second Place

The Spartan cagers ended their season play by hitting a scorching 56 per cent from the field in a 64-58 conquest of the St. Mary's Gaels at the Richmond Auditorium Friday night.

The win clinched a second place tie in the WCAC with Santa Clara. It marked the third win for SJS in three meetings with St. Mary's this season, and was the Spartans' sixth victory in the last seven games. SJS final record is 14-10 and 9-5 in the WCAC.

The Spartans had a slow start as St. Mary's led 32-31 at halftime, and led by three points midway through the first half. Pete Newell was charged with his third foul after six minutes of play and sat out the remainder of the half.

In the opening minutes of the second period, with the score tied 35-35, S. T. Saffold hit two 20-foot jump shots, Newell hit his patented corner jumper, and SJS led 41-35. Newell, despite missing almost half the game, led both teams in rebounds with nine.

The SJS front line, which had assumed most of the scoring duties throughout the season, received support from Jackie Gleason, who had 12 points, hitting 4-4 from the field and 4-5 from the free throw line. It was Gleason's best effort since he hit 17 points early in the season. The balanced scoring effort also included 15 points by Saffold, 13 by Frank Tarrantis, and 10 by Newell.

Jim Moore, St. Mary's leading scorer and rebounder, was held to five points by Saffold, but the Gaels' Jim Reames and Bob Turner cut the Spartan lead to 59-56 with four minutes remaining.

Hard-driving Frank Tarrantis hit a muscle shot, however, and Newell followed with a game-deciding tip-in.

Spartan coach Stu Inman expressed his appreciation for the band and the song leaders. "Their support has been immensely helpful to team morale throughout the season," said Inman.

In the preliminary game Keith Erickson scored 21 points while leading the Spartababes to a 71-64 victory.

'Gymnastics, Music Don't Mix?' Ask Freshman Tony Coppola!

By ROLAND ZECHMEISTER
A set of progressive jazz drums. A long horse. A side horse. Sets of parallel bars, still rings, a record player, assortments of Shelly Mann, Dizzy Gillespie, and Thelonius Monk albums. Add 5 ft. 2 in., 125 lbs. of muscle, brains, and talent. That's a combination which spells T-O-N-Y C-O-P-P-O-L-A, one of the brightest stars on the SJS freshman gymnastic team.

But this is only half the story. It all started way back in 1960, at Hillsdale High School in San Mateo.

"I became interested in gymnastics in my freshman year in high school," the 18-year-old freshman related. "My high school coach, John Gilmore, now head coach at Stanford University felt I had shown ability in P.E. classes, and encouraged me to try out for the team."

In his sophomore year, Coppola won the West Bay League All-Around Championship, and was fifth best high school gymnast in Northern California.

In his junior year, Coppola finished fourth in the Northern California Conference, which Coppola considered a slump.

"In my senior year, I blossomed again, and for a second time, I won the West Bay League (WBL) all-around championship, becoming the only person to ever win this event twice."

In his senior year, Tony also won four gold medals, two silver medals and one bronze medal in WBL competition.

While in high school, Tony also tried his hand at basketball and wrestling, winning yet another WBL gold medal in his senior year, this one for wrestling in the 95 lb. class.

"The most rewarding thing that happened to me," said Tony, "was in the beginning of that year, when I broke the WBL scoring record, and then went on to break my own record three times that season. I finally reached a total of 42 points in one meet."

Thus began a budding, blossoming career in gymnastics. But this is only one of two parallel stories, which together spell Tony Coppola.

"I've always been interested in music, said the Spartan freshman music major. "All kinds of music, but particularly progressive jazz," he added. "I feel that music is my calling, and I hope to earn my livelihood as a progressive jazz drummer."

In high school, Coppola was student director of the school band, in which he doubled as drummer. He was also active in various combos at this time.

It was a music scholarship which brought the Spartan gymnastics star to SJS. "While in my senior year, I auditioned for a music scholarship to SJS, and was fortunate enough to receive it." At SJS, Tony plays tenor drums in the marching band.

Tony's specialty in gymnastics is the all-around. This consists of six events, the horizontal bars, the parallel bars, the side horse, free exercise and "my two best events, the still rings and the long horse." The only gymnastics event not included is the trampoline.

Tony has chosen the all-around, "because there is a lot more satisfaction in doing all the events than in specializing in one or two."

Bold Burglars Bag Greek Brass;
Sorry Sorority Misses Miss Name

For the second time in recent weeks, burglars have stolen the big, brass Greek letters from the front of the Kappa Alpha Theta (KAT) house, 171 S. 11th St.

The letters were bolted through the wall. Police say the thieves cut through the bolts, then pried the letters from the wall.

Also stolen was one lawn chair. Officers found marks indicating someone had tried unsuccessfully to enter a kitchen window.

Mrs. Ida Edwards, KAT house-mother, estimated the loss at about $75.

The Reality of Hell

"Hell" is a common swear word, but a subject not often seriously discussed today. The modern philosopher often sees heaven and hell only as extremes of life on earth. But as terrible as human suffering is at times, no experience on earth compares to the agony of the lost in hell, eternally separated from God.

Have you read the story Jesus Christ related concerning one individual who forgot about God until it was too late? This incident is neither myth nor fable, but according to the Word of God, is Gospel Truth:

"Now there was a certain rich man, and he habitually dressed in purple and fine linen, daily living in splendor every day. And a certain poor man named Lazarus was laid at his gate, covered with sores, and longing to be fed with the crumbs which were falling from the rich man's table; besides even the dogs were coming and licking his sores.

"Now it came about that the poor man died and he was carried away by the angels to Abraham's bosom, and the rich man also died, and was buried. And in Hades he lifts up his eyes, being in torments, and sees Abraham far away, and Lazarus in his bosom. And he cried out and said, 'Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool off my tongue; for I am in agony in this flame.'

"But Abraham said, 'Child, remember that during your life you received your good things, and likewise Lazarus bad things; but now he is being comforted here and you are in agony. And besides all this, between us and you there is a great chasm fixed, in order that those who would wish to come over from here to you may not be able, and that none may cross over from there to us.'

"And he said, 'Then I beg you, Father, that you send him to my father's house—for I have five brothers—that he may warn them, lest they also come to this place of torment.'

"But Abraham says, 'They have Moses and the Prophets, let them hear them.'

"But he said, 'No Father Abraham, but if someone goes to them from the dead, they will repent!'

"But he said to him, 'If they do not listen to Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be persuaded if someone rises from the dead.' (Luke 16:19-31).

God is "desirous that all men might be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth" (1 Timothy 2:4), but a person's own will must be voluntarily yielded and surrendered to Jesus Christ before God can rescue him from the fate of hell. Your decision to trust Jesus Christ is all God asks.
